SEEK CHANGE IN UNIFORM

Between fifty and sixty officers and employees, while the federal customs service in the territory of Hawaii, have some reason to believe that their petition for a change in the uniform prescribed for this branch of the service will receive belated attention.

For years the men on the local staff of customs inspectors and watchmen have been at a loss to understand just why they should be obliged to wear a uniform of the weight, texture and color as that donned from January to July by their brethren in the customs service at Portland, Me., New York City, Detroit or Jamaica, Alaska.

A new circular letter, issued by the United States treasury department calls attention to some rather radical changes of more than peculiar interest to the local customs force. For instance, they are informed that the uniform heretofore prescribed for certain customs employees has now been amended to authorize and require all officers, connected with the department in the district of Brazos de Santos, Corpus Christi, Salleria, Paso del Norte, the district of Arizona and the district of San Diego, to wear a uniform of drab colored cloth of light material instead of the regulation blue.

The contention has always been raised by the local staff that the present uniform, required by the federal government, was never adapted to the needs and conditions to be found in the tropics.

It is now predicted that in view of the new regulation which effects the southern districts of the United States, Collector Stackable stands in line to secure a much-sought-for change for the better, should he take steps to have the district of Hawaii incorporated in the list of those, now known to possess a tropical climate. The average customs uniform in use at the port of Honolulu is much similar to that worn by a federal inspector in New York city throughout the coldest months. Following one of the many unreasonable federal laws, promulgated before the United States government ever dreamed of becoming the guardian of a series of insular and tropical possessions, the men in the customs service are compelled to procure clothing along exact lines as that prescribed for all ports of entry in the United States. The possibility of a change will be much welcomed here.

ALLEGED BIGAMIST LEFT COAST RECORD

John C. Steele, the Rapid Transit employee arrested here for alleged bigamy under the name of Clark, has left considerable of a record on the coast, according to news contained in the San Francisco Chronicle of Dec. 15. Steele, alias Clark, was arrested and has been released on bond to await the action of the grand jury. The Chronicle tells of his previous record as follows:

"United States District Attorney John L. McNab yesterday forwarded to Honolulu affidavits of John C. Steele, formerly a United Railroads' motorman in this city, which McNab expects will convict Steele of the charge he is now held upon—that of bigamy.

Steele, according to McNab, was married here in October, 1908, to Miss Teresa Sciaroni of this city. Eighteen months ago he is reported to have deserted his wife, fled to Honolulu, and remarried, taking for his second wife, a belle of the islands, his wife—wife No. 1—to whom he was wedded in Holy Cross church by Father Francis McGinty, was unaware of the place to which he had fled, but recently went to Oregon to search for him, basing her hopes on a clue forwarded by a friend.

"The presence of Steele, also known as Clark, in Honolulu, and his second marriage there, were made known by United States Attorney Breckons of Honolulu in a cablegram to McNab and a brother of Steele's first wife, James Sciaroni, yesterday made the affidavit concerning his sister's marriage. While the United States law contains no provision for the prosecution of bigamy, it is provided that when an offense against the state, not mentioned in the federal statutes, is committed, the state law is annexed to the federal statute. For that reason, Steele will be prosecuted by the government."

SOCIETY PEOPLE TAKEN IN A GAMBLING RAID

Prominent Persons Captured
When Resort in London Is Broken Up

LONDON, December 17.—Details which came out in court today in regard to a sensational raid last night on a West End gambling-house saw that the place-raided was one of the largest gaming establishments in London. The raid took place at 6:30 p. m. Three young married women and all the men captured held good positions in society. A night raid would inevitably have resulted in the capture of dozens of members of Parliament and possibly a member of the Cabinet.

When Detective McCoy first broke into the game as "Mr. Charles Harris" of the Bachelors' Club, he gave as the name of his sponsor that of an American peeress. He was told that she was known, but did not play there, going to another house of a similar sort. A jockey who lost $17,500 at this house is said to be Randall, who, before he became a professional, was one of the finest amateur riders in England. A woman who lost $140,000 is the widow of a big dry goods merchant, who, since she came into her husband's immense fortune, has been contributing largely to several West End gambling halls.

William Marshall Grosse, the croupier, and Roy McKay, the lessee, were arrested as the principals. The former is supposed to be the grandson-in-law of Sarah Bernhardt.

Some idea of the tremendous profits made at this house was gleaned from McKay's bank account. In September he amounted to $65. When arrested he had $180,000 to his credit. Chemin de fer was played exclusively, and the house had a 10 per cent rake-off.

STOCK MARKET IS REPORTED STRONGER

Although little business was done on the board today, the stock market is reported to be stronger. This condition may be reflected in the recovery of an eighth point by McElroy in a sale of 5 shares at 4.12 1/2, and the firmness of Ewa at 24.50 with sales of two lots of 10 shares each. These transactions constituted the entire business of the session.

In recess Oahu held its own for the comparatively large block of 150 shares at 23.62 1/2. Oahu remained unchanged at 4 for 15 shares and Brewery at 21 for 65 shares. Pineapple declined another quarter point to 44 for the considerable block of 250 shares.
